OUR NEIGHBORS

SALT RUN---Bent Gilgrist died Tuesday night, December 28th, 1886 at the residence of his parents near Salt Run, in the twenty-fifth year of his age; for the sixth time within a few years has the relentless hand of death invaded the sanctity of our home and carried to the spiritland a kind devoted son and the best of brothers. In the weary months of sickness preceding his death, he was ever the same uncomplaining, patient sufferer more thoughtful of the comfort of his attendants than of his own needs. In death the usual happy smile that he wore for everyone when in health and that went so far toward making home seem in real truth sweet, sweet home, rested upon his face.---nothing that was within his power to do to promote the comfort and happiness of others, especially in the home circle, was undone. . . The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mitchell, of Wellsburgh. He now rests in the cemetery of New Alexandria. The pall bearers were J. Silvers, W. M. Burnsides, J. W. Bell, D. BEll, T. Lathon and J. Hunter. (Poem followed.)

MT. PLEASANT--- DEath---On Christmas morning entered the home of Dr. J. E. Finley, taking there the oldest daughter, Miss Carrie. Her funeral took place the following Monday from the Presbyterian church; and the vast throng of people, with sad faces, who followed the remains to its last earthly resting place, fully attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the entire community. (Poem followed.)

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY

William H. Anderson died at Mingo at four o'clock this morning aged twenty-seven years, of typhoid fever. He only recently married Mrs. Rosenberg, widow of the late Kadish Rosenberg. His remains will be taken to Benwood tomorrow for interment.

Miss Clara Finley, an estimable young lady of Mt. Pleasant, and daughter of Dr. Finley, died at her home Christmas morning, aged about twenty years. She graduated at the Steubenville Seminary last spring, and appeared to be in the best health possible. The cause of her death was consumption.

William G. Johnston died this afternoon at one o'clock, at the residence of Miss Lizzie Johnston, after an illness of almost four months aged seventy-six years. The deceased was born in Belmont County, and was never married. His only living near relative was his niece at whose residence he died. His funeral will take place Sunday at 2 p.m.

An eight year old son of Martin Masters living on the border of Jefferson and Columbiana Counties.was yesterday burned to death. The family were absent and the boy returning from school crawled in through a window. Seating himself in front of the grate he fell asleep when his clothing took fire and he was burned to a crisp. The house also took fire and was saved with difficulty.

MONDAY

James Shannon, an old and well-known resident of Smithfield, died this morning of pneumonia, aged about 60 years.

THURSDAY

Mrs. Christian Hasckamp died at he residence of her husband on North Eighth Street at one o'clock this morning, aged 56 years. She was the mother of four children, Mrs. Augusta Lechtleider, Mrs. John Ockershausen, Elizabeth and Charles at home. She was prostrated by the terrible death of her son-in-law, Louis Lechtleider and never recovered from the shock. Her funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon two o'clock.

DEATHS--OBITUARIES

Thomas Stanton died at his residence on South Sixth Street Tuesday morning after a short illness. The deceased was born between Monamon and Cookstown in the County of Tyrone, Ireland, May 4th, 1807, and came to this country in 1840. He was married to Matilda Rafferty, a sister of James Rafferty, and David Grigg of Pittsburgh, who with one daughter, survive him. He was a brother of Dr. William Stanton of this city, and also leaves a brother and sister in County Armaugh, Ireland. He was a resident of the city for forty years, most of which time he was engaged in the liquor business and was highly esteemed by his many friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Rosanna Johnston, one of the oldest residents of Steubenville and Jefferson County, died on Monday at the residence of her son, John Johnston, in Cross Creek Township two miles west of the city, aged 89 years. The deceased was born in Washington County in 1798 and came to Steubenville in 1811 with he father Col. Edward Todd, who kept a tavern where Garrett's hall now stands. and ran the first rope ferry across the river at this place. She married John Johnston in 1814 and moved to the farm upon which she died in 1816. She was the mother of twelve children, seven of whom are now living: Mrs. George O'Neal of St. Louis; Mrs. Michael McKinney of Steubenville; John, of Cross Creek; William, of Newport, Ky.; Edward, of Davenport, Iowa; Curtis, of Sigourney, Iowa; and David, of Lincoln, Nebraska. She was a sister-in-law of the venerable James Turnbull and was a grandmother of the late Mrs. O. P. Dunbar. She was a member of the Fifth Street M.P. Church and her death will cause many an old citizen to look back upon the lapse of half a century and recall the changes made in that time. Her funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, the interment in Union Cemetery.

MARRIAGES

Wm. F. Nation and Miss Jessie D. Songs of Wintersville were united in marriage Wednesday by Justice May.

FAMILY REUNION

The most enjoyable affair of the season was the Home gathering at Daniel McDevitt's in Cross Creek. A gathering of hisfamily for dinner on New Year's day consisting of seven children and six grand children . . . and in the evening the following neighbors came; Doc. Bosmand and Homer Rine, of New Alexandria; Miss Annie Linton of Chestnut Ridge; Clem Roe of Warren Ridge; A. Hall and daughters; Clark Riddle and sister of Salt Run; Aunt Betty, Carrie and Ed Hook of Possom Hollow; Jim Bucy the gum boot man of Smithfield . . .And then came the music by Miss Annie Linton, Miss Hall and Sivard, Messrs. Roe, Hall and Bosman . . . A Christman tree on New Year's and a present on it for everyone there; which was taken off by William DAlrymple and Alkohal, the names read by Ed. Hook, and distributed by little Ettie Hall . . .

OUR NEIGHBORS

ANNAPOLIS---The many friends and neighbors of George Miser, an old resident of our community, celebrated Saturday, January 8th, as an anniversary day in honor of his eightieth birthday . . . All unite in the wish that Mr. Miser may long live to enjoy the respect and esteem that is due a good citizen, a solid Democrat and a Christian gentleman.

GROVER---Dr. Von Murault and present Mayor of our little village, still smiles over the recent advent of a girl.

Henry Fitzgerald rejoices over a new boy at his home.

ROSS TOWNSHIP --- Alex Hale has purchased the Tunnel Mill property, is repairing it and has already shown good improvement.

Bert Wilson of Heltraban, and Miss Casey, were quietly married the other evening. Accept our best wishes.

BERGHOLZ---L. T. Allensworth, who was off getting married has returned none the worse of the wear and tear and can jump the counter as actively as ever.

On last Friday evening Bert Heston, brakeman on the C.Y. &P. while in the act of coupling cars in this place, was caught between the cars, receiving a mortal hurt and died in about forty-five minutes. He was taken to his home in Mt. Union after his death. Bert was a bright and popular young man of about twenty years; he will be sadly missed by the railroad and by his many friends at Bergholz.

UNIONPORT---C. G. Carey and Miss Lizzie Boyd were married at the residence of the bride on New Years. The best wishes of their many friends attend them.

CHESTNUT RIDGE---Graft Gilcrist says he got a fine New Year"s gift in the way of a twelve pound piece of humanity; it is a girl and Graft wears a smile.

HAMMONDSVILLE---John McCarty steps high; its a little girl.

Jacob Hunter buried his little babe Sunday.

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY---

John Burke, the well-known Fifth Ward saloon keeper, died yesterday, aged fifty years of dropcy.

SATURDAY

William Ferguson, who came to Brilliant some four months ago from Texas and obtained employment in the Spaulding Iron Works, died at the hotel at that place after a four days illness of pneumonia, aged about forty-five years. The deceased has no known relatives in this part of the country, but is believed to have a sister in Hagerstown, Md.

The funeral of Mrs. Hamilton's little son, who died of diphtheria, took place on Saturday morning at ten o'clock from her residence in the Sixth Ward.

WEDNESDAY

An infant daughter of T. S. Sanders died at the home of her parents near Pekin last night.

THURSDAY

Mr. Edward Koehler, of Canal Dover, and Miss Kate Engel, daughter of Major John Engel, of this city, were married at the Protesant Parsonage in the Third Ward, Pittsburgh Wednesday by Rev. Mr. Hermann.

OBITUARY

Harriet D. McGrew was born on June 23, 1816, in Westmoreland County, Pa. Her father's name was Davis. Mrs. McGrew when twelve years of age, moved to Jefferson County, Ohio, and November 15, 1832, was married to David McGrew, who four years ago preceded her to the better world. She was raised a Quaker, but about 45 years ago was converted and joined the Methodist Protestant Church, of which she continued a faithful member until called to the church triumphant above. Sister McGRew was the mother of thirteen children, eight of whom are now in Heaven, and who can doubt were the first to greet her on the eternal shore. Five of her children, two daughters and three sons, survive to mourn her loss.One son, B. D. McGrew, is a resident of Nebraska; Another N. B. McGrew, resides in Uhrichsville, Ohio; and the third S. S. C. McGrew, makes his home in Mahoningtown, Pa. Her youngest daughter, Mrs. Buckingham, lived with her mother and made it her chief joy to minister to her these closing months of waiting and suffering. Her elder daughter, Mrs. Ong, the wife of our esteemed townsman, has long been a resident of Centerville . . . Her life had its full measure of the trials which are incident to us all. In less than three short weeks in 1851, she buried five of her children, smitten with that fearful disease scarlet fever. Besides these . . . she closed the eyes in death of three other children . . . Some years ago she spent some time in Centerville . . . Her last hours were full of quietness and at three o'clock in the evening of January 1, 1887, her gentle soul went out . . . into the brightness and rest of the new and better life . . .

THURSDAY---Francis, two year old son of Wm. and Mary McMullen died at his home in Mingo today, of measles.

Mrs. Rose Kirkpatrick, wife of Wm. Kirkpatrick, died at her home on Wells Street yesterday, aged 34 years.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Friday evening at 5 o'clock, while Casparis, the contractor, was at work on double tracking the Panhandle between here and Mingo. Jud Coleman, a colored laborer, was crushed to death by a rock falling upon him. The men were blasing rock at White Man's Leap, just below Bustard's Shaft, when a freight train came along, causing a concussion that loosened a large stone which rolled down, and before Coleman could be warned of the danger, the rock fell upon him and killed him almost instantly . . . He was about 30 years of age and came from Fairfax Court House, Va., but has been in the employment of Casparis for some time. He was a good workman and well liked by his fellow laborers.

KILLED ON THE RAIL (Tuesday's daily paper)

The sad news of the sudden death of Wm. Fleming, formerly of this city, reached here this morning, he having been killed by a locomotive in the Panhandle shop years at Columbus last night. He was a good worker in the Columbus shops, and it is supposed that he was on the way home from work when struck by an engine. While a resident of Steubenville he was employed in the car shops, and at the time he left here for Columbus he was Engineer of the Reliance Fire Engine. He was a good citizen and was like by everybody, and his death has caused sadness in the community wherein he was so well and favorably known. He was a member of the Steubenville Lodge No. 1, K. of P., which order will take charge of the interment which will be in this city. His age was about forty years. He leaves a wife and one child, a daughter who is now a young lady. (aged 18)

(A later, lengthier article gives an account of the accident in greater detail and adds the following information to that first given.) The widow is in ill health and fears were entertained by friends that she would not survive the shock. . . (He) was a nephew of James Fleming, the Panhandle yardmaster . . . The body arrived (in Steubenville) Wednesday morning and was taken to the residence of his brother-in-law, Alexander Hanvey, on North Fifth Street, where services were first held. . . . proceeded to the Fifth Street M.P. Church . . . The procession was headed by the Knights of Pythias, eighty strong, followed by the hearse containing the remains after which members of the G. A. R. and carriages containing the relatives and friends. . . .

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY---The remains of Lucy A., wife of Wm. Mullens, Allegheny, who died in New York on Wednesday afternoon, arrived in this city this morning and were taken to the residence of John Bustard on the Hill, brother of the deceased. They were accompanied by the family and friends in President McCullough's special car. The funeral will take place on Saturday at 1 p.m..

The three-month-old daughter of Oscar Paul, who lives on North High Street, was found dead in bed this morning. The mother thought the child was sleeping soundly when she got up and did not go to her until after breakfast, when the child was found dead. She had been suffering with a slight attack of croup but was not serious enough for the attention of a doctor. However it is not known whether the child died with that disease or not.

TUESDAY---Henry Kelly, aged 13 years, employed in a coal mine at Salineville met with a horrible death this morning. He was pouring powder from a 25 pound can, when a spark from his lamp dropped into the can, causing a terrific explosion . . . blowing him to pieces .

A great many of the older river men will remember Captain Thomas B. Crawford, on of the steamboat pioneers of the Ohio and Mississippi Valley. He died at his home in Huntsville, Ala., last week in the 70th year of his age. Mr. Crawford was born in Washington County in 1816, and took to the river while yet a mere boy, having learned his trade as engineer in the meantime. In his time he navigated the Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, Cumberland and Tennessee.

WEDNESDAY ---Mrs. Augustus Owens, an old resident, died this morning at her late residence, corner of Seventh and Adams Streets. She leaves five children all grown up, to mourn her loss.

DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, widow of the late Thomas Martin, died on Tuesday at six a.m. at her residence on South Seventh Street, in the forty-fourth year of her age. She leaves a family of five children, Mollie, Ida, Clara, Edward, and Walter, all at home, and a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. She was a kind and indulgent mother, a dutiful, loving daughter, and an affectionate sister, beloved by all who knew her.

OBITUARY---JOHN M. LAIRD

The venerable John M. Laird, who will be remembered by our older readers as a former citizen of Steubenville, died at his home at Greensburg, Pa. Tuesday aged 86 years. At the time of his death he was editor of the Greensburg Argus. Mr. Laird was born in Franklin Township, Westmoreland County in 1801, near the present town of Murraysville. On the remotepaternal side he was of Scotch-Irish and English retraction. He found in his father, Francis Laird, a tutor of rare qualifications. He received a good education . . . He removed to Steubenville Sept. 20th 1826, when he with Samuel Frew, started the Ohio Republican Ledger, but on January 10th of the next year Mr. Laird disposed of his interest in the paper. However the 20th of March following, Laird and Snowden formed a partnership and bought the paper, which they published for one year, Laird becoming sole proprietor . . . Laird continued to publish the Ledger until his sickness with fever and ague and the death of his wife, when he returned to Pennsylvania in 1831. While at Steubenville Edwin Stanton entered Mr. Laird's office and learned the printer's trade. In 1849 Mr. Laird purchased the Pennsylvania Argus in Greensburg, and since that time it has been under his management. His first wife, Ellen Marton, he secured at Cadiz, Ohio. The second wife was Rebecca Moore. The later marriage produced four children of whom three survive. His surviving son, Captain James Moore Laird and Francis Van Buren Laird, have the chief management of the Argus.

OBITUARY---FRANCIS A. ADAMS

A message received by Judge Jordan last evening from Ed. S. Maxwell conveyed the sad intelligence that Frank Adams had died at his home near Richmond, Kansas, of pneumonia, at eight o'clock yesterday morning. Few farmers of Jefferson County were so well known or highly respected as he, and his departure for Kansas some two years ago was a matter of regret to all his acquaintances. At the time of his death he was in his 58th year. He was a native of Belmont County, but when a small boy he lost his parents and came to the house of Judge McNary, his uncle, in Wayne Township, where he lived until he went West. As a young man he was known far and near as one of the most popular boys in the vicinity. After the death of Judge McNary he continued to reside on the farm, taking charge of it for Mrs. McNary, who died some two years ago and the old farm passed into other hands. He was married about thirty years ago to Melissa J. McNary, a daughter of John McNary, who with five children survive him. F. McNary Adams, residing in Adena, this county, but who contemplated emigrating West next month; Robert O. of southern Nebraska; Mrs. Rachel J. McCaul, of Richmond, Kansas; John T. and Henry O. at home. From his boyhood he was a member of the United Presbyterian Church . . . The warmth of friendship held for every acquaintance by Frank Adams was one of the strong points of his character . . .

OBITUARY---MRS. ISABEL SNODGRASS

Isabel, wife of the late John Snodgrass, died at her home in Salem Township, Jefferson County, Ohio January 13th, 1887, aged 77 years 4 months and 7 days. She was born Sept. 6, 1809 near Bloomfield and at the age of five years, removed with her parents, Samuel and Margaret Leech, to a farm near Reed's Mills. Soon after this her father died leaving the care of nine children on her mother, all of whom preceded her to the grave excepting her youngest brother, Robert Leech, who resides near Richmond. She was married to John Snodgrass December 20th, 1827 and they lived together nearly fifty-eight years, he dying Oct. 29, 1885. They had four children, all of whom live near the old home; James, Maggie J. and John L. Snodgrass and Mrs. Mary Bell Gilkinson. Mrs. Snodgrass was a member of the Two Ridge Presbyterian Church for 45 years and during her afflictions, lasting many years, was ever the same uncomplaining, patient . . . She was buried at Two Ridge Cemetery beside her husband, in which resting place also lie her parents, grandparents, brothers and sisters and many friends . . .

SUDDEN DEATH

The many friends of Mrs. George McFeely were startled with the news Tuesday morning that she was found dead in the stable at her home back of Mt. Calvary Cemetery. She had gone out to milk the cows, but was subject to apoplexy, having suffered two previous attacks, and it is supposed some fright brought on the fatal stroke. The deceased was the daughter of the late William Kenyon, the well-known foundryman of this city, and was a sister of Mrs. L. Zimmerman of this city; Mrs. Walker of New Orleans and of Wm. Kenyon of Dennison, and of John P. Kenyon of Pittsburg. Besides her husband, seven children survive her and mourn the loss of a mother; John in California; Mrs. Edward Nicholson and Mrs. Wm. McFarland of this city; George of Tombstone, Arizona; Will, Thomas and Eddie at home . . .

The Probate Court is occupied today in the hearing of the testimony to prove the will of the late Grafton Slutts of Springfield Township. Mr. Slutts died about a month ago and upon his demise his will, made some ten or twelve years ago, could not be found. Letters testamentary were applied for and to prove the contents of the last will is the cause of the hearing today . . . The application to prove the contents of the will which is lost, spoliated, or destroyed, was made by Thomas Allensworth, a party interest. The application was resisted by Martha Ann Slutts, the widow. S. J. Hooper, one of the subscribing witnesses said that the will was written by John Gruber in the presence of George Slutts about June 1876 . . . Grafton Slutts died two months ago of heart disease aged about 76 years; he left his wife and little daughter Katie aged about 13 years; also an estate of 720 acres of land valued at from $25,000 to $30,000 and personalty valued from $20,000 to $25,000. . . George Slutts, a brother . . . was present at the writing and signing of the will as his brother had sent for him to come from Holmes County . . . He had no interest in the will which according to him was as follows:---To his wife, the farm they lived on and all on it; to his daughter, Katie, 2 farms; to Catherine Allensworth, the Wolf Run quarter, 160 acres in Springfield Township; to his brother Levi Slutts, the farm he (Levi) lived on; to three namesakes: Grafton Allensworth, Grafton Slutts and (another) Grafton Slutts, $100. each; To Polly Champer $200. and to her son Madison Slutts $300. He designated Thomas Allensworth to be the guardian of his little girl Catherine Slutts, who was to take charge of the two farms willed to his daughter until she became of age . . . The Court refused to admit the will to probate upon (legal requirements) grounds.

PERSONAL

In February 1886, she alleges that he committed adultery in a house of prostitution in Louisville, also in Evansville, Indiana on divers occasions.

PERSONAL

Robert Francy, an old time farmer of Smithfield Township, was doing business in this city Tuesday.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT

Adam Peeler, an old resident of Mingo, died at his home Wednesday at half past seven a. m. in his seventieth year. The deceased was born in Germany in 1817, and came to this country when quite young, settling in Pennsylvania. At the age of 10 years he came to this vicinity where he has since resided, living three score years in Steubenville Township. He married Susannah Adams, a sister of the Adams of this neighborhood, and was the father of five children, four of whom survive him, and all of whom reside in this township. They are Homer, Adam Jr., Mrs. Margaret Roe and Lizzie C. Peeler. Mr. Peeler was one of the best known farmers in the county, and by industry and close application to his business he amassed a large amount of land and property. No one was more universally respected by his neighbors and friends of whom he had a large number. His funeral will tAke place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, interment in Union Cemetery.

Andy Wilson moved last week to Chase County, Nebraska.

OBITUARY

Constantine Fishinger died at his residence corner of Third and Madison Avenue at half past five Friday evening in his sixty-seventh year. The deceased had been ailing for the past two years but at no time was he bedfast ; yesterday evening he was walking about the yard and upon coming in passed away within five minutes without a pain or a struggle . . . The deceased was a native of Wittenberg, Germany where he was born November 6th, 1820 and where he lived until emigrating to this country in 1817 settling in Pennsylvania. In 1848 at Pottsville, Pa., he was married to Mary Bowser, also a native of Wittenberg. He was the father of nine children, seven of whom survive him and reside in this city: Lizzie, Rosa (Mrs. Thomas Myers), Mary, Kate, John, Lena and Sarah. The family moved from Pottsville to Steubenville in 1865 where they since resided, Mrs. Fishinger dying in August 1881. The deceased was one of the best known Catholics in Steubenville and vicinity.

SUICIDE

For upwards of three years the people of Steubenville have been accustomed to see . . . a large woman rather loudly dressed and face elaborately painted and powdered. She was known as Mollie or Mary Fisher . . . All the time she has been in Steubenville she has lived with Mag Ruple who keeps a house on the corner of Eighth and Kilgore, in the capacity of a housekeeper. . . . About six weeks ago . . . she rented half of a double house on North Eighth Street . . . she had furnished this house quite neatly. (She threatened to kill herself.) The family living in the other half of the house--(heard)--a shot fired in the Fisher side . . . went out after the police . . . (who) saw that she was dead. Everything points to a clear case of suicide. The woman came here from Charleston, W. Va. where she was married some time ago and she has one child living in that vicinity. Her husband also lives there. Her age was about thirty. She was buried at three o'clock this afternoon, the funeral expenses being borne by Mag Ruple. . . Coroner's Report---Mollie Fisher came to her death on the 11th day of March 1887 by a pistol shot fired by a person to me unknown . . . It is the intention to investigate the matter as closely as possible. . . in order that everything obtainable . . . that now adds up to the mystery may be cleared up.

IN MEMORIAM

On the morning of March 9th, at early dawn the spirit of a loved husband and father, Adam Peeler, Sr., passed into that dark, mysterious, but beautiful beyond. The deceased was born in Germany and came to this country when quite young, settling in Pennsylvania. At the age of ten years he came with his parents to this vicinity, located near Mingo and resided with his parents until his marriage. In 1844 he was married to Miss Susannah Adams of the same neighborhood, after which he purchased the house at which he lived up to the time of his death. He was the father of five children, four of whom survive him, and eight grand children, all of whom reside in the same township. They are Horner Adam, Jr.; Mrs. Doughlas Row, Mrs. Henry Wilkinson (deceased) and Lizzie C. at home. One sister, Mrs. Barbara Knapp (only remaining member of the Peeler family) survives him. Mr. Peeler connected himself with the Presbyterian Church of this place, known as Potter Chapel, quite a number of years ago, since which he has been a consistent member and an ardent laborer in the church . . .

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY

Frank Kimball Sr. died near Columbus the early part of the week and his remains were brought to his son Frank's residence at Brilliant for interment which took place at Warrenton Cemetery on Wednesday. After the coffin had been lowered a small quantity of nitro-glycerine was distributed and the work of filling the grave was then quietly proceeded with. When it was first put into the grave most of the people in attendance at the funeral including the mourners scattered in all directions. It appears that the grave of Mrs. Kimball was broken into after her burial and the jewelry with which she wished to be adorned was stolen and ghouls have been at work at other graves, many of which are supposed to be empty. It is to prevent such an outrage upon Mr. Kimball's grave that the nitro-glycerine was used.

DEATH

William Leo, one of the best known German residents of this city, died at his home in the Fifth Ward Wednesday afternoon at half past two after a lingering illness with consumption for the past two years. The deceased was born in Brunswick, Germany 57 years ago and came to this country in 1865. He was married in his native town to Johanna Krupp by whom he had five children, all of whom reside in this city; Lena, wife of Ed Zimmerman; Hannah, wife of Jos. Werner; and William, Charles and George. His first wife died some time ago, and his second wife was a Mrs. Meley, who with one child, Mina, survives him. He worked at his trade of shoemaker at the factory of his cousin, A. Floto, until a few years ago when he started a shop of his own. He was for years a member of Zion's Lutheran Church and was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. . .

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY

Mrs. Jane McCullough, relice of Thomas McCullough, a well known stone mason, who died twenty years ago, died this morning at about eleven o'clock at her residence on North Third Street in her sixtieth year. The deceased, whose maiden name was Eckleson, was born in Ireland, but has resided in this city upwards of thirty years. Her death was caused by pneumonia and her illness was of very short duration. She leaves three children, Lizzie, unmarried, residing in California; Sarah, wife of James Irwin, and George, of this city. She was a member of St. Paul's.

FRIDAY

Joseph H. McKinney has brought suit against Ella A. McKinney for divorce. Plaintiff alleges that he was married on April, 1885, but that on the 9th of December, 1886, the defenant was guilty of adultery with Wm. McAdams at the Commercial Hotel in this city and has since the first of November, 1886, been living in adulterous intercourse with said Wm. McAdams in this city.--Wm. McD. Miller, Attorney

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1887

A CENTENARIAN

We had a call today from James Gardner, one of the most remarkable men in this vicinity. Mr. Gardner was born in 1796 and is now in his ninety-second year; but with almost a century of years upon his head, Mr. Gardner's appearance is much younger than the average man of seventy. His hair is only steel gray, his hearing is good, his eyesight excellent with one eye, the sight of the other having been destroyed by accident, and he can walk with the steadiness and rapidity of a man of sixty. . . In 1808 Mr. Gardner's father moved on to a farm near Paris, Pa., which is still in his possession, and which he still calls his home . . . He has for a year or so made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Lockhart, in Washington, Pa. during the winter and in the summer he travels all around over the country . . . Last fall he nade an extended journey through Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, and contemplates going several places this summer. Mr. Gardner comes from a remarkably long lived family. His maternal grandfather, James Clark, was one of the pioneers of Washington County and Mr. Gardner himself was born about a mile from the present town of Eldersville. A short distance from his house stood the block house erected for the protection of the settlers from the attacks of the Indians, who one day made a sudden attack while Mrs. Gardner, then a young girl, was at her house and could not reach the fort. The garrison selected John Yaman to go after her and bring her to the house, but in the attempt Yaman was killed by the red skins when almost back, and the girl under a shower of bullets ran to the fort which she entered uninjured. James Clark was most remarkable for his vitality and Mr. Gardner says that when he was 107 years old, he had seen him take his rifle and bring down a squirrel from a high tree top. He made his home with Mr. Gardner's father, but when over a century old he would visit his daughter forty miles distant upon horseback, making the journey in less than a day. He died when he was almost 110 years of ago . . . Mr. Gardner's father died in 1821 at the age of 66 of a plague which visited the vicinity . . . His mother was almost a century when she died and preserved her faculties intact to the last . . .

OUR NEIGHBORS

CROSS CREEK---Dr. J. D. Thompson has moved his shingle from Wellsville to New Alexandria. . .

MT. PLEASANT---Mrs. R. W. Chambers, wife of our druggist, died on Sabbath and her funeral took place on Wednesday. The deceased was highly respected and the entire community will sympathize with the afflict- relatives in their bereavement.

JOTTINGS OF THE WEEK

SUNDAY

William Means Scott, "Barkey", and Miss Ada Powell, daughter of the late Ruel Powell, were married last night at eight o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joshua Manley, by the Rev. F. A. Brown. . . After supper the couple went to housekeeping on Dock Street. We extend congratulations and best wishes.

SATURDAY

Mrs. Pasco who resides in Adena made complaint before the Probate Judge that she was unlawfully and forcibly deprived of the possession of her child, a little girl about seven years of age, by James Maginn of Smithfield. It appears that Maginn took the child upon the death of Mrs. Pasco's husband and now desires to retain possession. Sheriff Burns went out after the child and the Probate Judge gave her into the mother's keeping.

MONDAY

J. W. Forney, of this city, received a telegram today saying that his father, Mr. Karle Forney, of Hanover, Pa. died suddenly this morning.

Mrs. Maria Leeper, widow of the late William Leeper, died at her late residence on Fisher's Run last night in her 78th year. The deceased was an old resident of this city and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

TUESDAY

Georgie, only son of S. S. and M. E. Davis, died Monday, March 28th 1887, of pneumonia aged three years, three months and ten days.

THURSDAY

The remains of James Lockhart who shot himself yesterday, will be taken to Brilliant for interment tomorrow morning. The funeral will be conducted by the Knights of Pythias.

SUICIDE---Takes Life with Pistol

James Lockhart was born in Mingo about thirty one years ago, the son of John Lockhart, and at a very early age was married. He began a railroad career several years ago as a brakeman on a freight train . . . a fellow brakeman . . . and Lockhart fell from a car. The wheels passed over Lockhart's leg, and all the surgeons said the leg must come off . . . (Lockhart) refused to submit . . . recovered with only a slight lameness . . . told his wife he was going to get away with himself . . . She did not give it much attention . . . she heard the shot and his body fall . . . she found him lying in the middle of the floor . . . with a revolver still smoking clasped tightly in his left hand. Although only thirty-one years old he left six children, three boys and three girls, ranging in age from twelve years to two. Lockhart had been a steady drinker of whiskey for years. . . For the past two years he had resorted to opium. . . It is thought that this morning the effects of the drug had gradually died out and his nervous system was in such a state that death seemed to be his only relief. . . In this case the feeling of horror is replaced by the thought of what is to become of the widow and orphans. . . It is very sad.

Mary J. McAdams, through her attorney, John M. Cook, has brought suit against William McAdams. Plaintiff says she was married to defendant in March 1876 and that one child, Frank, was born of such marriage; at the February term, 1879, of this Court, she was given an absolute divorce with entire control and custody of child upon the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. In December 1881, she was remarried in Pittsburg to said defendant, and on December 9th, 1886, he was guilty of adultery with Ella A. McKinney and has since then lived in adultery with her; on which account she prays for absolute divorce and for the custody and control of her child whom she has always cared for, supported and maintained.

KILLED BY A HORSE

Thursday afternoon, about four o'clock, Simon McGrew, a well-known citizen of Salt Run, Wells Township, was killed by being kicked by a horse. He was living on the Riddle place now owned by the Salzells of Wellsburg and came to Brilliant on an errand. He rode a very fractious horse and while in Brilliant had taken several drinks so that when he mounted the horse to go home he was scarcely able to control it. When near the lower end of Brilliant, the horse shied at something throwing McGrew off. One of his feet remained in the stirrup and the horse in jumping around struck McGrew with one of his hind feet in the stomach. He was carried into a store nearby and medical attendance sent for but he died in a very few minutes. He was a man about 65 years of age and has resided in several portions of this county especially along McIntyre. He leaves a wife and five children.

HORRIBLE MURDER---An old lady and her daughter the victims---Holliday's Cove the Scene of the Bloodiest Crime in the History of the Region---

Some time during the night Mrs. Drusilla McWha, an old well-known resident of Holliday's Cove, over-the-river, and her daughter, Mrs. V. B. Baker (Eliza) were murdered and their horribly mutilated bodies, were found in the kitchen of the house by the husband of the young woman at nine o'clock this morning, on his return from Pittsburg . . . No money was ever kept in the house. The old gentleman, Robert McWha, died leaving his widow in comfortable circumstances with the investments in government bonds, the proceeds of the sale of a farm. Mrs. McWha is a sister-in-law of Mrs. McDonald of this city, and an aunt of Solicitor Miller, James McWha, a butcher of this city, is a relative of the late Mrs. McWha. Mrs. Baker was the step-mother of Will Baker, a printer in the Ohio Press office.

Robert McWha, the late husband of the old lady, died five years. Up to 1833 he owned the Sherrard farm in Cross Creek Township. He bought it from James Ross, and afterwards sold it to Mr. Sherrard. He was well known in this city . . . The husband of the younger woman. . . is named Van Baker and the murdered woman is his second wife . . . The theory that Van Buren Baker, the husband of the young woman and son-in-law of Mrs. McWha committed the crime is the only one formulated from the circumstantial evidence at hand. The finger of suspician points directly at him . . . the motive was to obtain the money and property of the old lady, who it is said made a will giving her property to Baker in the event of the death of herself and daughter previous to the death of Baker.

(very lengthy account)

OBITUARY

William Fleming, a well known and highly respected citizen of Island Creek Township, died on the 7th day of May, 1887, in the 79th year of his age. Wm. HAMMONDSVILLE---James Davidson, Jr., is as happy as a boy in his first pantaloons, cause, the first arrival of a little girl.

SATURDAY

J. W. Arthur of Wichita, Kansas, who has been visiting his parents and brothers living near this city, left for his home today.

This morning William Leonard, of Canonsburg, Pa. was beating his way on freight train No. 51, and when near Bloomfield station fell off, the train passing over his thighs . . . He was brought to this city and died shortly after arriving. The township took charge of the remains but friends telegraph from his home that they would be here this evening to take him home. He was a man about thirty-five years of age.

The first one in six years is what Bill Bell of South Fourth Street says of the new baby girl that came to his home yesterday.

George Nicholson died at Colliers yesterday from the effects of a sun stroke four or five days previous. He leaves a wife and five children.

Lettie, daughter of Daniel O. Findley, died at her home at BrAy's Mills yesterday morning, aged eight years of inflammation of the brain, super induced by scarlet fever.

Another phase of the domestic troubles of the McDonald family took place today in the filing of a suit by John McDonald against his wife for divorce. He alleges as in his petition dismissed at last term of court, habitual drunkenness for the past three years, extreme cruelty in threatening his life since January 1st, she haveing shot him June 16th and July 20th, both shots taking effect in his hip . . .

Margaret Vogle . . . . has brought suit against Charles Vogle for absolute divorce. She was married to him in August 1864 and they have three children aged 22, 19 and 16 respectively. For the past three years he has failed to provide any support for herself or children and she has been compelled to depend on her own exertion on account of his continued profligacy and dissapation. He has also at time threatened the lives of his children.

About 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning Louis Woodmansee, for 20 years proprietor of the Grant House, of Wheeling. . . committed suicide by shooting himself in the right side of the head with a 32 calibre revolver . . . He leaves a widow and large family of boys nearly all grown. Financial troubles had depressed his mind for some time . . .

TUESDAY

An infant son of Adam and Margaret Truck died at his home on Sherman Avenue this morning aged three months.

The funeral of George Nicholson who died at Collier's Sunday from the effects of a sun stroke, took place from the Panhandle depot in this city this morning, his brothers acting as pall bearers.

(His) funeral took place from St. Peter's Church (Wednesday) morning and was largely attended by friends of the deceased . . . Interment was in Mt. Calvary.

WEDNESDAY

The family and brother of Charles, the man ground to pieces on the C & P Road Monday night arrived at Freeman's from Wales this morning, their anticipated happy home-coming changed to mourning by the terrible fate of the unfortunate man. The brother, Samuel Charles, is about 30 years of age, the widow 28 and her two baby boys, Robert and John, three and two years old respectively. Mr. Charles not only sent the money to Wales to bring his family here, but he had fixed up a pleasant home for them and everything was ready for their arrival. . .

The tragic death of Hugh Cusick is peculiarly sad because it occurred while in the line of duty . . . It strikes us that there should be further inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Hugh Cusick.

THURSDAY

James, infant son of D. N. and Samantha Long, died at Mingo yesterday and his remains were interred today.
